The light single-horse street cars look very stylish, and please every eye. We hope the lumbering freight boxes will be discontinued altogether. If the com-

THE ARKANSAS RIVER PACKET COMpany.
The fair and liberal proposition made by the President of this company has met, as we expected, a prompt response. Ten thousand dollars were subscribed yesterday, and more than that sum will doubtless be taken to-day. Memphis must control this line to hold and build up the rich Arkansas trade, and to control it she must take enough stock to virtually own the line. This trade is at our very door, and is becoming more valuable every year. Other cities see this, and are bidding heavily against Memphis for it. There are four cities against one—New Orleans, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati against little Memphis. They have the advantage in capital, and, consequently, in enterprise; but we have the double advantage of occupying the gateway, as it were, to Arkansas, and holding the trade in our own hands. The question is will we keep it, or will other cities, which are running boats in Arkansas rivers regardless of expense, secure a share of the rich prize? Our geographical advantages are great, but not sufficient to keep out dangerous rivals.
The truth is Louisville has ten drummers in Arkansas to-day where Memphis has one. If this proposition is not accepted, some other city will, when we are least expecting it, step in and buy out the line and ruin our trade. But the merchants of this city are alive to their interests always when they understand them, and they will doubtless take all the stock necessary to secure the control and permanency of the Arkansas River Packet Company.

Monument to the Confederate Dead.
There is to be a meeting to-night to inaugurate a long talked of plan of a monument to the Confederate dead—not the Elmwood monument, to which many have been subscribed, and which is slowly progressing—very slowly—but a church monument of gigantic and splendid proportions. We enter no voice of dissent. We are in favor of everything to commemorate the glorious dead of our country.
But may we not be asked, will this church of the monument be free to all? Can the chaplain of the great Stonewall Brigade, who is a Presbyterian, preach in it? Can the grand poet, Father Ryan, officiate in it? Can monumental addresses be delivered in it? As a monumental church it should be free to all.

TO THE PEOPLE.—I have been called upon to serve as a candidate in the Constitutional Convention. I will accept the nomination of the County Convention on the platform of universal white suffrage.

New York Life Insurance Company.
This is one of the solid life insurance companies of the country, and it is ably and worthily represented in Memphis by Messrs. D. O'Dell and J. K. P. Pritchard.
The following highly complimentary letter is a volume of testimony in a very small space:
MEMPHIS, November 10, 1903.
Messrs. D. O'Dell & Pritchard, Managers of Memphis Branch Office of the New York Life Insurance Company: GENTLEMEN: You will please accept my thanks for your prompt payment of $2000, amount in full of policy No.
62,241 on the life of my husband, Adolph Kahn. My husband insured in your Company last June, and paid but one premium. I cheerfully recommend the New York Life Insurance Company to my friends, and the insuring public generally, as one of the best and most reliable in the country. You will please return my sincere thanks to the officers of your excellent company for their promptness in paying the amount due me without giving me any unnecessary trouble or delay.
MRS. E. M. KUN.

PLAY ATTENTION.—In that magnificent collection of diamonds, watches, jewelry and silver-plated ware, on sale at Royster, Trezvant & Co.'s auction rooms, there are some of the best bargains ever offered in this city. There you may procure a full set of jewelry, together with a fine watch, at your own price. Auction sales take place daily at 10, 2 and 7 o'clock, at which time you only have to bid and the goods are yours. We would advise our readers to call and examine these goods. They are all from the celebrated house of O. J. Tyler & Co., and are warranted as represented, in every case, or no sale.

You talk about living! just call at J. D.
Edwards' market this evening and take a look, and then say who lives.
Oysters, sea fish, turkeys, chickens, game, lobsters, scollops, celery, a perfect curiosity for the Memphis market. Call early, and take a look at Edwards' market for once. You can buy anything you want at your own price. Almost everything received inside of forty-eight hours, fresh and nice. No. 278 Second

pany will do this, and run the light cars often and on time, and reduce fares to five or six cents, as it is in other cities, then riding in street cars will become more popular, and business will increase immensely. The poor will feel able to ride as well as the rich, and the street railway will become an institution of general utility and convenience.
Rev. Arthur Bogdan, the Nestorian Presbyter, will deliver two lectures next week for the benefit of the Young Men's
